Spring and fall, with their mild temperatures and disarmingly beautiful blossoms and foliage, are optimal times for strolling. Summer brings outdoor concerts and festivals and perfect opportunities for side trips to the seashore. New York is a choose-your-own-adventure kinda place where a left turn reveals glitzy lights and after-hours cabarets, while a stroll to the right unveils brownstones carved from thick brick and sweet cafes set along cobbled lanes. Set your sights as high as the skyscrapers and extend that to-do list as long as Broadway - New York is yours for the taking, and it will gladly welcome you in if you're daring enough to explore. Washington DC has Great restaurants, wild clubs. More culture - the Smithsonian, the Kennedy Center, the Folger - than a city this size deserves, plus a National Mall that's the front yard and public podium of the American people. Finally board the famous "Maid of the Mist" boat for an up-close Niagara Falls experience.

The best time to visit is summer, between June and September. Summer is fabulous for frolicking on the beaches, enjoying alfresco dinners and attending festivals and outdoor events. The mountains are gorgeous and perfect for hiking, camping, biking and other outdoor pursuits. California is one grand, sweeping gesture, a long arm cradling the Pacific. In San Francisco, that seven-by-seven-mile peninsula that looks like a forefinger pointing upwards. Take this as your hint to look up: you'll find San Francisco's crooked Victorian rooflines, wind-sculpted treetops and fog tumbling over the Golden Gate Bridge. Visit Yosemite National Park best known for its waterfalls. You can find deep valleys, grand meadows, ancient giant sequoias, a vast wilderness area. Las Vegas - it's the only place in the world where you can spend the night partying in Ancient Rome, wake up in Paris and brunch under the Eiffel Tower, bump into Superman on the way to dinner in New York, watch an erupting volcano at sunset and get married in a Pink Cadillac at midnight.

FLORIDA & CRUISE TO BAHAMAS

- Day 01 : Arrival Miami
- Day 02 : Miami-NP Everglades-Key Largo-Miami
- Day 03 : Miami-start cruising towards Bahamas and Key West
- Day 04 : Nassau
- Day 05 : Coco Cay island
- Day 06 : Key West island
- Day 07 : Miami-Cape Canaveral-Orlando
- Day 08 : Orlando
- Day 09 : Orlando-Fort Myers-Naples
- Day 10 : Naples-Miami-departure

Similar to the tropics, Florida has essentially two seasons: wet and dry. Winter, Florida's dry season, is from roughly November through April. Temperatures are lower, there's less humidity and rain, and it's the ideal time to hike, canoe and explore nature, particularly in South Florida. Winter is the best time to come to Miami. Miami is one of America's great immigrant-rich cities, and its mix of Caribbean and Latin American cultures is led by its Cuban community, which long ago carved its own Spanish-speaking city within the city. These Latin flavors spice up everything: the dance floor, the kitchen, the cocktail glass, the dress code. On a Bahamas cruise you'll find a sun-splashed seascape of 700 islands and 2,000 cays offering idyllic tropical getaways for sailing, snorkeling, fishing, strolling pearly pink-sand beaches, and swimming crystalline turquoise seas.
